

Germany's Foreign Intelligence Service (BND) to Become Branch of America's CIA?

According to a news report in the June 7th German Economic News (Deutsche Wirtschafts Nachrichten, or DWN), headlined "Merkel entmachtet BND: USA kontrollieren Spionage in Deutschland » or "Merkel Ousts BND: US to Control German Espionage," a new law will soon be passed in the German parliament and be approved by Chancellor Angela Merkel, which will make Germany's version of the CIA, the Bundesnachrichtendienst (BND), nothing more than a branch of the CIA, to such an extreme degree, that even U.S. corporate espionage against German companies will become part of that 'German' operation. The independent capacities of the BND will become emasculated, no longer operational, under the new law.

« In practice, this means that the US intelligence services [NSA] will be allowed to continue to listen in on every company and every individual in Germany.»

(That includes the Chancellor herself, whose phone-conversations were previously embarrassingly revealed to have been listened-in upon by the NSA. Now it'll be legal.)

This could be part of the West's buildup toward a global war. According to a report issued on June 6th in German Economic News, the German government is preparing to go to war against Russia, and has in draft-form a Bundeswehr report declaring Russia to be an enemy nation. DWN said there:

« The Russian secret services have apparently thoroughly studied the paper. In advance of the paper's publication, a harsh note of protest has been sent to Berlin: The head of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Russian State Duma, Alexei Puschkow, has posted this Twitter message: 'The decision of the German government declaring Russia to be an enemy shows Merkel's subservience to the Obama administration.' »

Back on February 17th, DWN had reported that German Chancellor Merkel "will develop a new military doctrine" declaring, « The 'annexation' of Crimea by Russia is the basis for military action against Moscow." Apparently, that prior report will soon be fulfilled.

Taken all together, these news reports from DWN indicate a clear subordination of the German government to the U.S. government, in a period of preparation for a NATO war against Russia.

However, not mentioned at all in the DWN articles — nor anywhere else in Western 'news' media — is a crucial fact, a fact that the head of America's 'private CIA' firm Stratfor acknowledged only when addressing a Russian-speaking audience, because it reveals the fraudulence of the West's alleged 'justification' for all of this economic and now also military action by the West against Russia: that (in English) the overthrow of Ukraine's President in Russia's neighboring nation of Ukraine during February 2014 was "the most blatant coup in history." » That coup, in turn, led to the separation from Ukraine of the two regions of Ukraine that had voted overwhelmingly for the President whom Obama had just overthrown.

Extensive video documentation exists demonstrating that the overthrow was a coup, and even demonstrating that the Obama Administration had selected Ukraine's post-coup leader 22 days prior to his being formally appointed by the Ukrainian parliament. Furthermore, the only detailed scholarly study of the evidence that has been performed came to the same conclusion — that it was a U.S. coup. The last month before the coup was incredibly violent, with Obama's hired fascists attacking the government's security forces brutally: Here is some of the bloodshed from the prior month, on January 21st, then January 22nd, then January 25th.

Moreover, immediately after the overthrow, when the EU sent its own investigator into Kiev to report back on how the overthrow had taken place, he too reported that it had been a coup. Subsequently revealed was that the Obama Administration had started preparing the coup inside the U.S. Embassy in Kiev by no later than 1 March 2013 — almost a year prior to the coup. Also, the even earlier preparation for the coup, extending through decades, on the part of CIA-affiliated 'nonprofit' or NGO organizations (funded by Western aristocrats and their corporations), laying the groundwork for this coup, has been brilliantly documented at some online sites.

None of this information has been widely published — it's virtually not at all published in the West. Though the potential audience for it might be vast (especially since Western publics pay much of the tab for this operation and yet receive none of the benefits from the resultant looting of Ukraine, which goes all to aristocrats in the U.S. and allied aristocracies), the market in the West for reporting it, is virtually nil, because the market is the West's news media, and they've all (except for a few small ones like this) been taken over by the aristocracy, and serve the aristocracy — not the public (their audiences, whom they're in business to deceive). The aristocracy's companies advertise in, and thereby fund, most of those 'news' media, and the aristocracy's governments fund the rest — and the public pays for that, too, not just by being manipulated to vote for the aristocracy's politicians, but by being taxed to pay what the NGOs and their aristocrats don't (so the public are buying the weapons etc.). It's a vast money-funnel from the many, to the few.

Though the transfer of Crimea from Ukraine to Russia is treated by Western 'news' media as having been a 'conquest' by Russia, and as being Russia's 'seizure' of Crimea, and Russia's 'stealing' Crimea, nothing of the sort is true (and Crimeans had good reason to be terrified of the Obama-coup regime that had just been installed, from which Russia saved Crimeans), but the lie needs to be promulgated in order for the aristocracy's invasion of Russia to be able to be organized and carried out.

Unfortunately, the reason why this U.S. coup in Ukraine has still not been reported in the West, is that to make it public to Westerners would jeopardize not only the Western economic sanctions against Russia after Russia accepted the overwhelming decision by Crimeans to separate from the post-coup Ukrainian government, but would also jeopardize the preparations by all of NATO to go to war against Russia: both the sanctions and the invasion would have no basis and no support among Western publics. All of that (the sanctions, and now the pouring of troops and weapons onto and near Russia's borders for a possible invasion of Russia) would no longer be at all palatable by Western publics, if this history — that it all began by a violent U.S. coup in Ukraine — were to become known before the U.S. and NATO invasion occurs. So it all remains, instead, suppressed in the 'democratic' West.

So: please email this article's URL address (which is immediately above this article), to friends, so as to spread to them the word, that NATO is preparing an invasion of Russia. There's no way that the 'news' media they see are likely to tell them (until it's already too late).
